sional District is of the most flattering felt the effects of such action in '44, do so by calling on Dr. James E. Baker, gave an account of the large, enthusiastic and interesting meeting at Estill Springs. Before and since which time our talented and worthy district Elector has not been idle. He has been doing his whole duty in the performance of his arduous task. We understand by those who were present that Maj. BURNAM has addressed, with the greatest success, large and enthusiastic audiences in Garrard, Rockcastle, Laurel, Knox and Whitley, and in all of those counties the whigs were thoroughly aroused to the importance of the great contest of November next, and scores who have heretofore acted in concert with the Democratic party, avowed and declared publicly their intention to vote for Scott and Graham. In the county of Whitley particularly the noble cause is onward and upward. And notwithstanding the fact, that in the late election for Appellate Judge, Simpson was beaten by Farrow 235 votes, from what can be learned from those that know, we do not hesitate to say that Scott's majority over Pierce, will exceed beyond a doubt, 500 votes. A prominent and influential leader of the Democratic party after hearing Maj. B., expressed publicly his determination to go and use his influence for the gallant old hero of Chippewa and Mexico. We now call upon all those interested, and there is not a man but what is, to keep the ball rolling. It is the intention of our Elector to visit and canvass the whole district, and we bespeak for him the attention of the people wherever he may go. He is speaking in behalf of the people's candidate Winfield Scott. Al though the candidate is no new man, civil as well as military history. No man dare doubt his political integrity, for no man ever occupied as high positions for so long a time. He has been the choice of a large majority of the people of some parts of the Union for over twenty years, consequently, he will receive a nearty, admiring, triumphant and enthusiastic support.

Sept. 3-34-1m. THE DEATH OF ADONES. His sunny locks.

Hung on his temples, like goalden fleece. On the edge of a pathless desert of trees, and nearest the foot of Olympus, sat the queen of beauty and of love, with her golden tresses inbound, and her matchless countenance bufied within the palms of her milk white hands, and sobbing as if her fond immortal heart would break. Beside her was laid The dead body of Adonis, his face half hidden beneath the floating fall of her hair, as she bent over him and wept. Beyond them lay the stiffened bulk of the grim and grisly Boar, his hideous jaws flecked with blood and foam, and his terrible tusks glittering like the heads of pointed spears as they stood out, sharp and white, in the unclouded sunset. The attractions of the chase had doomed the beautiful Adonis to an early death, pages, is well calculated to lessen the trials and and consigned the levely Venus to an endless easily have been avoided, had the Legal and

WHY IS IT! That we behold many females, scarce in the meridian of tile broken in health and spirits with a complication of diseases and ailments, depriving them of the power for the enjoyment of life at an age when physical health, baoyancy of spirits, and happy serenity of mind, arising from a condition of health, should be predominant.

Many of the causes of her sufferings at first—perhaps years before, perhaps during girdhood, or the first years of marriagewere in their origin so light as to pass annoticed, and of course neglected.

IN AFTER YEARS.

When too late to be benefitted by our knowledge, we look back and mourn, and regret the full consequences of our ignorance.

What would we not often give to possess, in early life, the knowledge we obtain in after years! And what days and nights of anguish we might not have been spared, if the knowledge was timely possessed. It is

And to her husband the constant toil and anxiety of mind, necessarily devolving upon him from sickness of the wife, without giving him the opportunity of acquiring that competence which his exertions are entitled, and the possession of which would secure the happiness of himself, wife, and children. SECURE THE MEANS OF HAPPINESS

By becoming in time possessed of the knowledge, the want of which has caused the sickness and poverty of thousands. In view of such consequences, now the or mother is excusable if she neglect to avail herself of that knowledge is respect to herself, which would spare her much suffering, be the means of happiness and prosperity to her husband, and confer upon her children that blessing above all price—healthy bodies, with healthy minds. That knowledge is contained in a little work entitled
